SCHOOL DISTRICT BUSES TO CARRY ONE-FOURTH OF GRADE-SCHOOLERS

Expecting to handle approximately one-fourth of the 4400 children in the Jefferson Elementary school district, the three buses of the district went into operation this week.

According to Harry Aronson, business manager for the schools, over 1300 children were regularly transported to and from school last year by the buses. With increased enrollment, more are expected to take advantage of the service this year.

Principal use of the free transportation this year, he estimates, will be by Broadmoor and Colma children. All students at the Colma school will ride, and a number of Broadmoor youngsters are expected to need bus service to carry them to the Westlake school, where many of them attend.

The free service is also available to any child in the school district who lives more than a mile from school. Kindergarten to third graders who live three-quarters of a mile from school can take advantage of the service; also fourth to seventh graders living up to a mile.

The following is a complete, but tentative listing of the school transportation schedule for the year.

Tentative Schedule
Bus No. 1—Woodrow Wilson to Colma, 7:15; Woodrow Wilson to Crocker, 7:40; N. and S. Hillside to Jefferson, 8:35.

Broadmoor, Garden Village to Westlake, 11:15; Westlake, Garden Village and Broadmoor to Colma, 11:35; Woodrow Wilson to Crocker, 11:55.

Colma to Woodrow Wilson, 12:25; Colma to Crocker, 12:40; Crocker to Woodrow Wilson, 12:10.

Jefferson to N. and S. Hillside, 2:30; Crocker to Woodrow Wilson, 4:40; Colma to Broadmoor, Garden Village and Westlake, 4:55; Westlake to Broadmoor and Garden Village, 5:10.

Local Hanging Death Probed

Pending a complete coroner's report, local police today were reluctant to write off the recent hanging of a San Pablo salesman as a suicide.

Norbert Anthony Meyer, 30, was found by his partner, John J. Madden of Richmond hanging from a bathroom door in a local motel last Thursday morning.

Meyer had left no suicide note and Madden asserted, when questioned by police, that Meyer had no apparent reason for suicide.

The two partners, who made frequent stops in Daly City, were on a field trip here in connection with some movie advertising.

Deputy Coroner Bert Laswell said an autopsy is being made, but until chemical analysis has been completed a final verdict of suicide will not be returned.

Westlake Scouting Meet Set Monday

Parents Invited To Attend Conclave

Westlake parents interested in scouting are asked to attend the first fall meeting of the Cub Scout Pack No. 248 next Monday, September 15.

Harry Bosbery reports the meeting will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the Westlake clubhouse, 95 South Mayfair.

Parents whose sons are, or who wish to be members of the pack are especially invited, as the meeting will center around future aims and hopes of the pack.

Also an important event of the evening will be awarding cub scouts badges they earned during the limited summer scouting program.

Westlake residents, too, are reminded the cubs will conduct a rag and paper drive October 4. Bosbery said more information on this will be forthcoming after the Monday meeting.

Police To Graduate Large Class Of Auxiliary Officers

Will Be Sworn In Before City Council September 22

Approximately 20 men will be sworn into the Daly City Auxiliary Police unit at the city council meeting of September 22, after receiving three and a half months of training and instruction under Sergeant Dave Hansen.

Chief Roland Petrocchi expressed his hope that the auxiliary men will take some of the strain off regular department officers, in addition to making it possible for the department to offer better police protection to Daly City.

Written Exam
All of the men have successfully passed a written examination on the subjects covered in the course, and will receive their own stars and uniforms.

They have already received practical experience in the field, many assisting Officer Hank Sundermann in conducting periodic road blocks and traffic checks.

Their instruction consisted of lectures on patrol procedures, burglary, robbery, criminal law, laws of arrest, penal code, and the mechanics of arrest. In addition, they received specific instruction by officers of the department in their various specialties.

Guest Lecturers
During the course of instruction, guest lecturers were John Mongan, vice-principal of Jefferson Union high school, who spoke on "Mob Psychology," and Inspector Tom Fitzpatrick, San Francisco Police Department, who instructed in "Communists and Subversives."

All of the auxiliary officers throughout their training period received a minimum of four hours weekly, assisting regular officers in patrol work. Many of them have participated in important arrests.

Mob Control and Tear Gas
They learned mob control and riot work from Sgt. Hansen and Officer Les Bastedo, and the use of tear gas and its effects from Officer James Walsh, rangemaster for the department. Walsh's demonstration included giving the auxiliary trainees a dose of the gas that they may be forced to use in their work.

Motion pictures were shown to them on collection and preservation of evidence, search and seizure of prisoners, judo holds and the use of the policeman's nightstick.

Ray Savage, Department Veteran, Takes Broadmoor Police Chief Post

The new chief of police for Broadmoor Village is a 34-year-old gentleman named Ray Savage.

He was appointed last Friday night by the three-man district police commission to fill the vacancy left when ex-Chief Paul Schmidt retired.

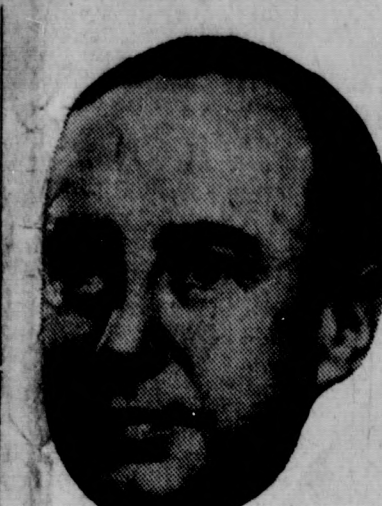

One of the oldest men in the department in point of service (he and Officer Don Tannehill entered the force at the same time), Savage has been a Broadmoor resident for the past four years. He lives with his wife and child at 832 Beechwood street.

Unanimous
Savage was appointed by a unanimous decision of the commissioners: Armando Ferraris, Claude E. Hanrahan (just appointed by the county Board of Supervisors to fill the vacancy left by Pat Patey, who resigned at the same time as Schmidt), and Val Olsen.

He commands a force of three full-time and two part-time men, plus 25 reserve officers and four reserve matrons. On full-time duty are Savage, Tannehill and Gale Galusha. Part-timers are Robert Williams and Harry Brown.

On the extra-curricular line, the force also maintains their own Boys' Club, which Savage insists is the principal reason Broadmoor's per capita juvenile delin-

Stevenson Waves, Smiles On Journey Through Daly City

Hundreds Turn Out To View Demo Candidate

Adlai passed through Daly City Tuesday.

Huddled in the back of a red convertible, the Democratic candidate seemed chilled by the Daly City weather, but nevertheless managed to offer the hundreds who lined Mission street a smile and a wave of his hand.

The presidential candidate's entourage included a block-long line of cars, a squadron of San Francisco police and a truck load of busy news photographers. All of whom accompanied him from San Francisco airport where his plane landed, to San Francisco itself for a speech on foreign policy.

Taggart Greets

He was greeted at the airport by a cheering throng including Harold F. Taggart, county Democratic congressional candidate, and Sanford Sussman, president of the county Chamber of Commerce, who presented him with a gaint key to the county.

Advance notice of a few hours, brought by a sound truck that toured the central business district of the city, brought a turnout of an estimated 700-800 people to view the Stevenson smile and receive the Stevenson wave.

Local Airman Killed In Jeep

Killed in a jeep accident this week was a former Jefferson high school student, Alfred C. Christensen, Jr., 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Christensen, 116 Bepler street.

A familiar figure in Daly City, Christensen graduated from Jefferson high school two years ago and joined the navy where he soon rose to the rank of airman. He was killed while piloting a jeep from a Maryland air base to Hollywood, Maryland. Details of the accident were not available at this time.

He is survived by his father and mother; a brother, Ronald; a sister, Mrs. Adaline Thorne.

Funeral services were held from the W. C. Lasswell & Co. mortuary Wednesday. Interment followed at Golden Gate National cemetery.

POLICE CHIEF'S WIFE ROBBED HERE

The wife of an Eastern chief of police was the victim Friday of a well-muscled thief, Daly City police report.

Mrs. Maybelle Sullivan, Euclid, Ohio, and spouse of that city's leading law enforcement officer, left an 8 mm. movie camera and about $6 in small change in her car, parked in front of a Mission street motel where she was staying.

When she returned to the car, she discovered that a thief had pried open the tightly-shut rear window and made off with the camera and money.

CALL FOR PUBLIC HEARING ON NEW ROUTE OF 76 BUS

A public hearing of the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission is expected in the next month to pass on the newly-proposed bus route for lower Daly City, Broadmoor and Westlake, it was learned today.

The new route for the No. 76 bus (see last week's issue of THE RECORD), which would take it down San Pedro road, then into Broadmoor and Westlake, received an OK earlier today from two people who have long fought for an extension of the present service.

Sounds Good

Father Anthony Morrissey, pastor of Holy Angel's church, told THE RECORD: "This new route sounds all right to me. It looks like they're doing their best to please everyone. That's a difficult thing to do, but if this route goes through it should prove satisfactory to the majority."

Mrs. Teresa Langford, who started the petition for a change in route that neared 1000 signatures late last week said she believes the route is the best that can currently be expected.

Principal objection voiced by many was the slowness of the schedule—one hour between any given point.

More For The Same

Although James H. Turner, San Francisco utilities manager, says the route will—though covering a much greater area—cost substantially the same, the bugaboo of double fares will be eliminated under it.

Previously it cost Daly City passengers 15 cents to ride while in San Mateo county, then another 15 cents after crossing the line into San Francisco since their was no transfer provision.

The proposed re-routing will enable them to travel from Daly City into San Francisco for the one fare of 15 cents.

Skyway Motors Lose A Sedan—Keys In Ignition

A 1950 Mercury sedan is missing from the lot of Skyway motors, 6918 Mission street, today.

At approximately 3:45 p.m. last Friday, an unknown thief took advantage of the fact that ignition keys were in the car and drove it off the Skyway lot.

Police broadcast an all-points bulletin for the car.

8c Boost Set By Council

Maintenance of the city's five new parks and the still to be completed Community Center have driven the city tax rate up from $1.295 to $1.38 for 1952-53.

The new tax rate was set at the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening.

Adlai Gets An Official Welcome To Daly City

When the Stevenson caravan paused at the top-of-the-hill for lesser politicians to do a little seat-shifting, three local men took the opportunity to welcome the Democratic candidate to Daly City on behalf of city government and local labor.

Eddie Dennis, councilman, Tony Ricci, police commissioner, and Emmett Campion, local Democratic committeeman, gave the Governor an official welcome. All are union officials.

Later, they attended a council on labor problems that Adlai held at his Fairmont hotel headquarters in San Francisco.

Pillar Of Smoke Brings Firemen

While a pillar of smoke, visible for 20 miles, towered over Westlake Sunday, Daly City firemen fought to bring under control a burning loading platform. Barrels of gasoline on the platform threatened at any moment of the 45-minute blaze to explode.

Located in the Doelger construction yard on the south side of Alemany Extension, the platform was probably set afire, says Chief Elmer Kennedy, by children.

Firemen played a steady stream of water on the gas cans to cool them, then construction workers dashed in to remove them from danger. A large crowd of Westlakians and passers-by watched their efforts.

Reported by a local resident, the fire brought every piece of equipment in Daly City on the run. It began at approximately 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon and continued 'til past 2 p.m.

PLANNING COUNTY-WIDE MASS MEETING—Civic leaders from every community in San Mateo county have been called to attend a Mass Meeting in the San Mateo Y. M. C. A. the night of September 17 to open the campaign in behalf of a $400,000.00 Juvenile Hall Bond Issue. Arranging for the meeting are (pictured from left to right above) Superior Court Judge Aylett R. Cotton, who presides over Juvenile Court; John S. Cowgill, Chief Probation Officer; J. Ed McClellan, Chairman of the San Mateo County Probation Committee, and T. Louis Chess, Chairman of the Bond Issue Campaign Committee.

sealing and site development were rejected when it was decided to set October 28 for a bond election to raise $160,000 for completion of the building.

4. A letter from the Lions Club recommending officers underwrite first time losers on the parking meters was referred to the police commission.

5. An ordinance setting up a three man fire commission was introduced, and it is expected the council will name its members shortly.

Make GI Insurance Payable To VA Now

Veterans may now make their checks or money orders for government life insurance premiums payable to "Veterans Administration," VA announced today.

Heretofore, checks and money orders had to be made payable to "The Treasurer of the United States." As a result, many premium payments were sent to the Treasury Department rather than to the VA District or Central Office handling the insurance account.

Veterans were advised by VA not to send cash through the mails but to use checks or postal money orders. Cancelled checks or money order stubs serve as premium receipts.

Opera Workshop Auditions Slated This Thursday

City College of San Francisco has announced auditions for enrollment in its Opera Workshop for the fall semester, which opens next week, will be held Thursday, September 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the campus auditorium, Ocean and Phelan avenues.

An accompanist will be provided, although applicants should bring their own music. Casting will begin immediately for the workshop's presentation of Sigmund Romberg's, "The Desert Song," scheduled for production a November.

At the same time, City College officials announced the inception of a complete new curriculum in music designed to meet the demand for free specialized training in both opera and musical performance fields.

Courses, including sight singing, languages, dancing, opera coaching and fencing, will be given on a part-time as well as a full-time basis.

Regular college credit may be obtained.

Complete information about the workshop, directed by Flossita Ladger, and the new music curriculum, may be obtained by contacting City College.

Boyle Appointed Head Of County Demos For Younger

Says Change Is Needed Despite Affiliations

An appeal to San Mateo county Democrats to support Arthur Younger, San Mateo county's Republican candidate for Congress, was issued today by Harry J. Boyle, newly appointed head of the county-wide "Democrats for Younger" committee.

Boyle, an insurance executive and prominent civic leader, resides at 510 Ravenscourt, Hillsborough.

A life-long Democrat and former resident of Mississippi, Boyle also stressed the need for a change in our national administration, and called upon all Democrats to help in the fight to ensure competent representation in Washington by joining the "Democrats for Younger" group.

Despite Party Affiliations
"Despite party affiliation we certainly have had enough experience to know that we must have a change," Boyle pointed out. "Our national security and national economy are threatened by a continuation of the present administration's bungling and wasteful methods," the businessman continued.

He emphasized that Younger possesses all the assets necessary to help restore our government to a sound economic balance. "Younger has had vast experience in business management both on local and levels," Boyle explained. "It is men of practical experience like Arthur Younger who are so sorely needed to guide our country's affairs today."

Demos Urged To Contact
Boyle urged local Democrats to contact him at his residence, DI. 4-5571. "This is a volunteer organization," he said, "and while our work is getting underway I feel that there are many Democrats who feel just as I do, and who are willing and anxious to work to accomplish our objectives."

Boyle was born in Mississippi, and is also a former resident of Dallas, Texas. After graduating from the University of Mississippi he served in World War I as an officer in a machine gun battalion overseas. His vast insurance business includes offices in eight Pacific Coast States and Alaska. He has long been prominent in civic affairs, having taken an active part in the Hillsborough School Bond drive, in the Peninsula Hospital campaign, and other local projects. He is a member of Rotary and Peninsula Golf Club, as well as the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco.

ART OF ANTICIPATION

Practice the art of anticipation when driving along our streets or highways, advises the National Automobile Club. Knowing what that fellow ahead is going to do, and what you yourself are going to do, may save you a lot of trouble and may even save your life.

Small House with Custom Touches

This house on a typical suburban lot can be bought complete, except for fences, for $14,000 in the San Francisco area. It has 1,114 sq. ft. of enclosed space, and its features include paved terrace, fenced service yard, private garden, storage room, double carport, and completely equipped kitchen. The price is based on the quantity production by the builder. On your own lot it would cost about $16,000, and in other parts of the country an additional 10 percent for a large heating plant and more insulation. As shown in House Beautiful magazine's special issue "Guide for the Bride," this house is completely fabricated of wood and plywood on a concrete slab floor.

Knowledge is Power

(1) A study made in Cincinnati reports that the average youngster watches TV for 3.7 hours on school days and 5.5 hours each on Saturdays and Sundays, or 29.5 hours a week. The same child spends 25 hours a week in the classroom. Looking at TV, says "Changing Times" magazine, is an activity in which the child plays a completely passive role. The contribution to the child's character and personality is nil. There are three ways of coping with television and the child: (1) don't own a TV set, (2) lay down the law, (3) use intelligent discipline to make TV a constructive force.

(2) Gossiping pours emotional energy into things we cannot change. This goes for men as well as women, writes Dr. Dorothy C. Finkler in her book, "How to Make Your Emotions Work for You." Our purpose in gossiping, she explains, certainly isn't to make over the people we gossip about. And it has an emotional price tag.

We should examine our emotional budgets to see whether we can, in terms of our happiness, afford to spend emotional energy without getting anything in return for it. That energy, if directed toward making us happy, would put sparkle far outshining physical beauty into our personalities.

(3) If you start at the southern end of the Appalachian trail alongside Mt. Oglethorpe, Ga., you can walk north 2,100 miles to the top of Mt. Katahdin in Maine. Dorothy M. Martin describes the through trail in "American Forests" magazine.

An ex-GI hiked the 2,100 miles in four months, averaged 17 miles a day. He had his boots resoled twice on the way. Last June the final stretch of trail was cleared for hikers. It winds through dense woods, over mountains, into valleys, past lakes and streams.

Carl F. Wentz Named To Head Bank Of America

Carl F. Wentz, California farm boy who left his native Livermore valley to become a bank messenger, today had become the president of the greatest bank in the world, according to announcement by A. J. Gock, chairman of the board.

Directors of the Bank of America, meeting in San Francisco, named Wentz unanimously, Gock said, as their choice to succeed L. M. Giannini, who died August 19. It is hailed as a popular choice.

Wentz, who had semi-retired three years ago at the age of 60, relinquishing his post as senior vice president but continuing as a director and member of important committees, takes the presidency with the solid support not only of all directors but also of the bank's managing committee, headed by S. C. Beise, present senior vice president.

Wentz said he was giving up his semi-retirement to accept the position as a matter of duty and loyalty to the bank. Resembling in many ways the rugged founder of the bank, A. P. Giannini, the new president is a two-fisted, six foot, 200-pounder who worked closely with both Gianninis over many years in the building of the great California banking structure which today serves more than five million deposit accounts and has resources substantially in excess of seven and a half billion dollars.

Seriously contemplating the responsibilities which face him, Wentz told reporters after the board meeting that he believed wholly in the Giannini banking philosophies and would continue to be guided by them.

Daly City Man Ready For Mexico

Sailfishing, swimming, and a trip to the giant caves of Cacahamilpa, are part of the interesting things in store for 92 Naval Reservists from Northern California when they visit Acapulco, Mexico, this month.

Among the reservists will be Bernard G. Olsen, Lieut. (j.g.), 449 South Mayfair avenue, Daly City.

The Reservists will leave Treasure Island on September 13, and proceed to San Diego, California, for training exercises. Then, upon completion of this training they will make a trip to Mexico's largest port on the Pacific Coast.

Two destroyer escorts, the USS George A. Johnson (DE-583) and the USS Thomas F. Nickel (DE-587), will participate as a task element in the training cruise under the command of Cmdr. P. T. Dickie, USN, Inspector-Instructor at Salt Lake City, Utah.

This training cruise is one of several conducted during the summer in order to maintain the Naval Reserve at a high standard of training and preparedness in case they are needed to supplement the regular Navy.

The training for these Reservists will consist of anti-submarine warfare, aerial and surface gunnery, and all phases of shipboard watches and life.

Upon completion of this cruise to the quiet semicircular harbor of Acapulco, the ships will return to Treasure Island on September 28, where the 17 officers and 17 enlisted men who participate will return to their home throughout California, Nevada, and Utah.

The crest of Nob Hill in San Francisco is at Sacramento and Jones streets, at an elevation of 338 feet.

OBITUARIES

Louis Gregore

A former Colma city official and pioneer resident of that town, Louis Gregore, died today at his San Bruno home, 601 Eastern avenue.

Founder of the Native Sons Florists of Colma, Gregore was instrumental in much of the progress in the community for 25 years. He was also a member of the Dolores Parlor No. 208, Native Sons of the Golden West.

He is survived by 12 children: Mrs. Louise Grandona, William, Irene, Delia, Lorraine, Mrs. Delphine Grandona, Alfred, Nicholas, Yvonne, George, Mrs. Barbara Lagomarsino and Mrs. Germaine Gibbs. There are seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the Nauman Muzio Lincoln chapel, 322 Maple, South San Francisco, Saturday, September 13, at 9:30 a.m.; and thence to St. Bruno's church where a Requiem High Mass will be celebrated. Interment will be at Holy Cross cemetery.

Rosary will be recited Friday evening at 8 p.m. with the ritualistic team of the NSGW holding communal services at 8:15.

Hazel Lagomarsino

Funeral services were held from the W. C. Lasswell & Co. chapel September 6 for Mrs. Hazel Lagomarsino, 50 Park avenue, Los Gatos.

A native of Colma, Mrs. Lagomarsino was 47 years old. She died September 3 in her home.

She is survived by her husband; George; sons, George and Eugene; father, Henry Lorenz; sisters, Mrs. Helen Valentino and Mrs. Alice Ghio; brother, Herman Lorenz. She was the grandmother of Belinda and Marlena Lagomarsino.

Interment was at Olivet Memorial cemetery.

Mrs. Lucile Fazre

A pioneer resident of Daly City, Mrs. Lucile Fazre, 77, died September 4 at the Peninsula Sanitarium.

While at the time of her death she was a resident of Redwood City, Mrs. Fazre lived many years in the Daly City-Colma area. She was a native of Switzerland.

She is survived by her husband, George, and children: George, Wilfred, Mrs. Lucille Hoffman, Mrs. Helen Karpe, Mrs. Bluetie Tracy, Mrs. Marguerite Taylor.

Funeral services were held September 6 from the W. C. Lasswell & Co. chapel. Interment was at Cypress Lawn cemetery.

Vacant Federal land in the United States totals about 170,000,000 acres, of which 142,000,000 acres are within grazing districts.

How To Live With Earthquakes Is Topic Of Science Show

How to live with earthquakes will be the theme of Science in Action on Tuesday, September 16, when program host, Dr. Earl S. Herald, has two seismologists as guest scientists.

Charles Herrick and John Farr, University of California experts frequently in the news for their work at Tehachapi, will demonstrate the workings of various kinds of seismographs.

Special film sequences, taken by Southern Pacific, will show faults and other evidences of cracks in the earth's surface caused by quakes.

Back on the air after a summer vacation, Science in Action, sponsored by American Trust Company, continues its weekly programs every Tuesday evening from 7:00 to 7:30 p.m., on KRON, Channel 4.

THE RECORD RECOMMENDS

As a reminder to you and your elected officials THE RECORD this week inaugurates a civic improvement "box score" dictated by public need.

The right hand column carries the number of days final action has been held up on these issues. We hope this guide will be instrumental in bringing about some of these needed reforms.

Days Delayed
757	A coordinated civilian defense organization which would meet at least once a month to discuss disaster problems.
112	A Chamber of Commerce supported by local businessmen to improve the community.
442	Proper transportation facilities for Westlake and Daly City, preferably a privately operated line.
282	Recreation: Park for Westlake area; Completion of the Community Center building; Night lights for Marchbanks park.
1,451	An end to flagrant use of closed door caucus meetings to carry on the majority of the city's business.

In Defense Of Daly City Husbands

It's out, now. Nine out of ten Daly City husbands are kitchen slaves! They're more than tied to their wives' apron strings. They don the aprons themselves, covering the executive-type business suits they wore so independently during the day, as they march to their chores at the sink and the washing machine.

No other interpretation seems applicable to a survey, reported this week by the New York Journal of Commerce, revealing that nine husbands in every ten help their spouses with the housework.

And yet, on second thought, who provided all the household aids that have push-buttoned drudgery right out of the U. S. home? Why men did that—venting and perfecting everything from the vacuum cleaner to the electric dish washer! And why did they do that? Plainly because they are gallant souls, inspired to lighten the little woman's burdens!

And why are men now operating all those things? Simple again. U. S. males are gadget minded. They always spend half of Christmas Day playing with Junior's mechanical toys before he can get a hand on them. Just boys at heart, they can't resist the mechanical marvels their gallantry and sympathy created.

As for the 10 per cent who don't help their wives around the house, they're probably either unchivalrous cads or unimaginative clods (though mightily brave, at that!)

A Plan To "Beat" The Parking Meters

Seeking to serve the community, and incidentally the business men on the east side of Junipero Serra boulevard, the local Lions Club has launched a parking meter campaign.

Purpose of the program is twofold, for by having officers insert nickels for forgetful parkers the Lions hope to foster good will and an inclination for more residents to shop in an area handicapped for lack of proper parking facilities.

While THE RECORD wholeheartedly endorses any plan to encourage more business in this area, we are inclined to believe the Lions approach is a good one, but needful of some modifications.

In the first place, it is our understanding that the law would forbid a policeman to drop the nickels into the meters. There is some technicality about a cop "breaking the law" by assisting motorists who have overstayed their time.

Also there is the question whether or not it is desirable to give any motorist an opportunity to occupy valuable parking space for more than an hour.

We would submit the following amended plan which, while accomplishing the desired end of the Lions Club, would appear more practical from both the city's and merchants' viewpoint.

First, the time of the meters should be pushed back from an hour to one-half an hour. This would result in an even faster turn-over of possible customers.

At the same time the price of the half hour's parking should be reduced to the minimum, say one or two cents.

And finally, in order to encourage patrons to visit the local merchants and to avoid cops "breaking the law," each businessman could provide a special place where customers could get pennies for the meters. In other words the merchants would be encouraging business by shouldering the great amount of parking expense.

The fact merchants would be willing to feed the meters could be announced simply by putting a small plaque on each meter, reading something like this: "Let us, your local businessmen, pay for your parking. Free pennies are available at all stores bordering this meter."

This is far from a perfect solution, but it is certainly a step in the right direction. What is actually needed, of course, is off street parking—an item which might well be paid for from the revenue from the present meters. But this should be the subject matter for another editorial.

Planning Commission Follows State Law

There appears to be some misunderstanding about a recent move of the city council to give the newly created planning commission additional power.

It should be understood this move is not an arbitrary one. All planning commissions in sixth class cities are governed by state law. The number of commissioners, to how many times a year they shall meet is all clearly defined in the state code.

A section of that same code prescribes that a planning commission shall have the power to hold public hearings on all controversial matters, and shall rule accordingly. They make recommendations to the city council, but these are tantamount to final decisions.

This part of the code was written into the recent commissioner ordinance at a recent meeting of the city council, and was done so only to follow state law.

We can more or less assure our readers that this in no way represents a dire plot—as rumored—to give the planning commission powers to act arbitrarily. Furthermore, a cursory examination of the five men on the commission should be enough assurance for even the most critical voter that all sections of the town and political ideas are represented, so as to outlaw any possibility of one group pushing through a move designed to harm another.

Welcome The New Superman

Writing in the current Bulletin of The Atomic Scientists, a French biologist, Jean Rostand, makes a startling prediction. He says it will be possible, by biological innovations including such mysteries as the laboratory juggling of hormones, to produce genuine supermen in every department of human intelligence and ability.

He expresses, however, a personal misgiving:

"While we would be thrilled by the emergence of a creature destined to solve the problems that baffle us, will not our instinct of self-preservation revolt against the advent of this stranger?"

One instant's review of the situation the country's in now and the type of leadership it is struggling under should resolve that question. Bring on the "stranger" pronto! What can we lose?

Constitution Day Celebrated

One hundred and sixty-five years ago on September 17, 1787, a document was completed which was then, and is now, the outstanding work of its kind. That document is the Constitution of the United States.

Amazingly enough, the high concept of law and government and the clear statement of that concept set forth in the Constitution came from a group of men whose views were in frequent and bitter conflict. There were times in their deliberations when it seemed that general agreement was hopeless.

But through 165 years of peace and war, prosperity and depression, the Constitution has met the challenge of time and crisis. It has demonstrated that the basic laws of justice and liberty are not outmoded by the years and that no "ism" can compare with the stately operation of government by the people.

We must not forget, however, that the Constitution is a living document only insofar as the people of America live it day by day. We must recognize and practice its principles that all men—not almost all men—are created equally.

The Constitution of the United States will continue to stand so long as we, individually and collectively, stand by its ideals.

San Franciscan Hits Fluoridation On Health, Constitutionality

The Record, Editor

Dear Sir:

How fortunate the citizens of Daly City are to have an open press on the subject of fluoridation!

It is with this gratifying knowledge in mind that the following pertinent facts are being submitted:

After hearings were held on Fluoridation of Public Drinking Water by the Select Committee (House of Representatives) a final report was issued July 1952, signed by seven Congressmen, two of which were medical doctors. A few excerpts from this report are:

"The acute toxic effects of fluorides have little bearing upon the hazards which may be associated with its use in public drinking water for the purpose of reducing dental decay. As in the case of most chemicals used or proposed for use in food, the hazard, if any, will result from the cumulative action of small quantities ingested over a relatively long period of time."

"It is safe to say that fluoridation is MASS MEDICATION."

WITHOUT PARALLEL IN THE HISTORY OF MEDICINE."

"Fluorides CANNOT be driven off by boiling or heating."

"Recommendations for universal fluoridation of water supplies should not be made until further research into the effects of the ingestion of fluoridated water by adults, the aged and the ill, is completed and final results of the studies now in progress known."

The illegality and unconstitutionality of this program was also brought out in a recent issue of the Hastings Law Journal.

It would be a wise step to become fully acquainted with the true facts and detailed hazards of chemical sodium fluoride, which is a waste product of aluminum manufacturers. The natural fluorine has been recognized as a cumulative poison by European scientists for over a century.

It is suggested that both sides of this issue be heard and debated simultaneously.

Yours very truly,
B. J. W.
Mrs. J. D. W.

Proposed Richmond-San Rafael Bridge Comes Under State Study

Governor Earl Warren today, Thursday, called a meeting of The California Toll Bridge Authority for Tuesday, September 23, in Sacramento, at which time the Authority will receive and consider a report and recommendation of the Department of Public Works concerning construction of the proposed Richmond-San Rafael Toll Bridge across upper San Francisco Bay.

It was stated on behalf of the Authority that interested parties are invited to attend and to express their views with respect to the proposed project.

Proposed In 1920 Since the early 1920's proposals to construct a bridge between Richmond and San Rafael have been under consideration.

In 1949 Marin county and the City of Richmond combined to have a preliminary engineering report made by a firm of consulting engineers.

On the basis of this report the Legislature appropriated $200,000 for a further study by the Department of Public Works with instructions to ascertain if a vehicular crossing could be built in accordance with provisions of the California Toll Bridge Authority

Favorable Report

A favorable report regarding the engineering and financial feasibility of the project was made to the 1951 session of the Legislature, which made a further appropriation of $750,000 for preparation of detailed plans and specifications. This work, involving foundation explorations, traffic studies, and plans for the substructure, superstructure, approaches at the Richmond and San Rafael ends of the proposed bridge, and other work, has now reached the point where the Department of Public Works is ready to submit its report and recommendations to the Toll Bridge Authority, it was announced by Frank B. Durkee, director of Public Works.

In the event the recommendation of the Department is concurred in by the Toll Bridge Authority, it may authorize preparation of a revenue bond issue for consideration at a later date.

A permit for the bridge has been issued by the Department of the Army. It provides for a high level structure to take care of shipping in both channels presently maintained by the Federal government in this area.

San Mateo county Democrats opened their central headquarters this week at 218 Lorton avenue, Burlingame. Another headquarters was opened simultaneously at 6454 Mission street, Daly City.

Carrying supplies into the Burlingame headquarters are, left to right: Frank Rose, chairman, county central committee; Marion H. Kent, vice-chairman, county central committee; Roy Seagraves, Taggart campaign chairman; Barbara Taggart, Taggart's daughter; Harold F. Taggart, Democratic congressional candidate; and Edward J. Reilly, San Mateo city councilman and Stevenson for President campaign chairman.

HOLLYWOOD

As Ernest Hemingway grows older, his heroes age with him. He is a classic illustration of the truth of the critical contention that a sincere and honest writer always and eternally writes about some facet of himself.

In his first book, a collection of short stories called "In Our Time," the central character through whose eyes the tales are lived is a husky, outdoor-loving youth in a midwestern agricultural community. Hemingway was little more than such a youth when he wrote them.

Farewell To Nurse In "Farewell To Arms" we follow the tragic love story of a nurse and an American soldier serving in the Italian army through the emotions of the soldier, whose experiences closely paralleled those of the author in World War I.

In "The Sun Also Rises" the teller of the tale was a war veteran living in Paris, as was Hemingway. This particular veteran was impotent because of a war wound, a condition which probably did not duplicate the author's own experience because one knows he has since taken unto himself several wives and sired a number of children. But in age, professional occupation, economic circumstances, and one imagines, in psychological attitudes, the parallel between author and central character continues.

Wine In The Afternoon Hemingway went to Spain to watch the bull fights and drink wine with the matadors. His readers got "Death in the Afternoon." He went big game hunting in Africa and we got a number of first class short stories and "The Green Hills of Africa."

Came the Spanish Civil War, which Hemingway covered as a correspondent, and there resulted several more books celebrating violence and blood and courage. The title of one of these, "The Fifth Column," referring to the four columns of Franco marching on Madrid and another column of fascists inside the city, has become an integral part of our language.

Same Guy The most notable of the Spanish Civil War books was "For Whom the Bell Tolls," where once again, although certain external circumstances were changed, the hero was pretty much of the same age and disposition as the author. Then came silence for a number of years, followed two years ago by "Across the River and into the Trees." The critics who couldn't do half as well themselves kicked this one around rather roughly. I didn't think it was as poorly written as many of these evasive scribbles claimed but it lacked unity of concept and was surely below the high standard Hemingway had set for himself. And again the hero was a man of the author's age, now in the middle years, saddled with ill health, enjoying a final fling with a 19-year-old countess in a penultimate wish-fulfillment burst of waning powers.

Worn Out Now, in the book which was just released (THE OLD MAN AND THE SEA), by Ernest Hemingway, Life Magazine, 20c, and Scribner's, $3) the circle is completed. The actor has played his many parts on the stage of life and we are given the story of a worn-out old man whose courage and determination have outlasted his physical capacities.

"The Old Man and the Sea" is a beautifully written tale of a few days in the life of an elderly fisherman. It is simple, unpretentious, completely without ornateness. Had it been written by Joe Blow or John Doe it would scarcely have been noticed, not because of its lack of merit but because its merits are so unobtrusive. But since it was written by the Number One American novelist, it has been read with care and it will be widely hailed, and deservedly so, as a small work of art, an exercise in master craftsmanship.

In A Slump The story line is so clean and concise that it can be condensed into a few words. The old man lives by fishing. For 84 days he has fished in vain. Because of his bad luck a boy whom he loves as a son has been forced to leave him for a luckier boat. The old man goes out alone on the 85th day, far, far out. He hooks a gigantic marlin, fights him for two days and nights, finally subdues him, tows him toward port, only to lose him to sharks on the way in. That's all there is to it.

What gives the tale impact is largely the personal struggle between man and fish. The man uses his back and shoulders as a towing bitt, instead of attaching the line with a few round turns on some part of the boat. Consequently the man is in discomfort and pain for the 48 hours.

Suspenseful This makes for a suspenseful story but seems unnecessary from the point of view of practical fishing. There was no reason why the man could not have taken a turn with his line around some inanimate object and slacked away as the fish put on more pressure.

Hemingway said the line might break unless the old man warped it across his back. But when a tugboat is towing a liner, the man on the towline does not find it necessary to test the tension with his entire body. He takes a few round turns and as he feels the tension increase on the end he is holding, he gives slack.

This point interfered with my appreciation of the tale, but once one accepts the author's conditions, and forgets about the unnecessary punishment to the old man's back, the story becomes completely absorbing.

We Like Us It is a successful literary creation but not so successful as the editors of Life maintain. These gentlemen hailed their own perspicacity in printing the story with enthusiasm, which is pardonable or almost pardonable. However, to increase Hemingway's stature they found it needful to take snide cracks at two of his contemporaries. They belittle Scott Fitzgerald and John Dos Passos, an attitude which seems without justification.

"The Old Man and the Sea" is a highly pleasing three-day wonder but I doubt that it will become immortal or even that it will hold up ten years from now with other earlier books by the same author. It is a book for reading once. I read it twice, once for pleasure and the second time as preparation for this essay.

The first time was the most fun, which is not the usual reaction to a really great novel.

I feel no urge to read it again, though some day I will assuredly go back to "Farewell To Arms" and "The Sun Also Rises." They are as honest and as important as "Tender Is the Night" by Fitzgerald and "Forty-Second Parallel" by Dos Passos, while the book under discussion lacks their depth and significance.

HERE'S HOW KOREAN VETS CAN GET A GI HOME-FARM-BUSINESS LOAN

Six steps to a GI loan for a home, farm or business were outlined today by the Veterans Administration for the benefit of more than a million veterans who have been discharged from the armed services since the start of the Korean conflict.

The new Korean GI Bill, signed into law by the President on July 16, 1952, amends the loan guaranty section of the World War II GI Bill to include eligible veterans with service anywhere in the world since June 27, 1950.

VA regional offices across the country are now issuing certificates of loan eligibility and processing applications for loan guaranty.

Six Steps The six major steps to a GI loan are:

1. Find the property or business venture you want to buy.
2. Go to a bank, building and loan association, or other institution.
3. Present your plan and your original discharge or separation papers.
4. Property is appraised by VA approved appraisers.
5. Certificate of reasonable value goes to the lender.
6. If application is approved, the loan is made.

In step No. 3, the original discharge or separation paper is needed to apply for a certificate of eligibility. VA said that veterans need not rush to apply for these certificates since there is usually time to do so when the loan application is submitted.

Certificate of Eligibility Local VA regional offices, however, will issue certificates of eligibility at any time upon the request of an eligible veteran.

To be eligible, veterans must have been discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable; they must have had active military or naval service in the U. S. forces anywhere in the world at any time after June 27, 1950, and before the current emergency is declared ended, and they must have served at least 90 days unless they were discharged sooner for a service-connected disability.

Unmarried widows of men who served since June 27, 1950, and who died in service or as a result of a service-connected disability after service, also may qualify for GI loans under the Korean GI Bill.

Cancelled World War II veterans who reentered service since June 27, 1950, will have their unused loan entitlement under the World War II GI Bill cancelled when they are released from active duty and may receive new entitlement under the Korean GI Bill.

The result is that these World War II veterans, like all veterans eligible under the Korean GI Bill, will have 10 years from the end of the Korean emergency—a date to be set by Presidential proclamation or by concurrent resolution of the congress to obtain GI loans. The World War II loan deadline is July 25, 1957.

Civil Defense Drill Needed As Much As Fire Drill -- CD Head

"Disaster drills should be conducted with the same regularity that fire drills are conducted in the schools of California," said Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robertson, state director of Civil Defense, this week.

"Everything possible should be done to eliminate fear and avoid panic," he said.

School planning for Civil Defense is done by individual school districts but, in general, conforms to a pattern of conducting students to places of greatest safety within the buildings in event of an air raid alert.

The disaster plan of Grant Union high school in Del Paso Heights, Sacramento county, is enacted on this week's radio program of the State CD office by the principal, the vice-principal, faculty and students. The plans of the school are under supervision of Major Earle Temple, Civil Defense coordinator.

The crash of a disabled airplane into the school auditorium, orderly evacuation of the building, first-aid preparedness and other phases of the school's plan will also be dramatized.

EXHAUST FUMES

Exhaust fumes from an automobile engine that leak into the interior of the car are both offensive and dangerous, reminds the California State Automobile Association. If you can detect the odor of exhaust fumes when driving your car, check for leaks around the floor pedals, steering post and other areas where there is possibility of exhaust gases entering the passenger compartment.

P. G. and E. Hits Hundred Year Mark

On the anniversary of its 100th birthday (today), the Pacific Gas and Electric company made the following announcement of the extent of its operations:

Territory Served: 89,000 square miles encompassing 46 counties with a population of 5,220,000.

Customers Served: 1,430,645 electric, 1,114,452 gas, 19,589 water, and 717 steam. (Total: 2,565,403.)

Employees: 18,579 at present. Total 1951 wages were: $77 million.

Taxes: $65,865,815 paid to districts, counties, the State, and the Federal Government in 1951.

Stock Ownership: Nearly 200,000 stockholders, who own 25,304,263 shares.

Electric Energy Capacity: 3,046,200 kilowatts in 75 P. G. & E. generating plants (58 hydroelectric, 17 steam-electric) plus 550,000 kilowatts from other sources. The all-time peak power demand upon the P. G. & E. interconnected power system was 3,074,900 kilowatts, on July 29, this year.

Gas Capacity: 1,200 million cubic feet of gas to "firm" customers in a 24-hour period this winter. This is the amount estimated if abnormally low temperature conditions exist. P. G. & E. record for a day's sendout is 1,039 million cubic feet, set Jan. 2, this year. Natural gas is supplied P. G. & E. by 46 California fields, plus the Super Inch line from Arizona.

Miles of Electric Lines: 60,724 (10,754 transmissions, 50,150 distribution).

Miles of Gas Pipelines: 14,000 (2,300 transmission, 12,100 distribution).

One Man Injured In Weekend Accidents

One man went to Junipero Serra hospital for treatment of minor injuries following an auto accident last Saturday morning at the corner of Mission street and E. Cavour, police report.

Injured was Louis A. Florio, 601 Shields street, San Francisco. Also involved in the accident was Eugene Nicles, 179A Taylor street, Colma. Florio was treated for a small head cut and released.

Only property damage was reported in a second accident later the same day near Lynwood drive and Belmar.

Involved were David Joe Rickar, 49 years, of San Francisco, and Bradford R. Powell, 2871 Mission street, 34 years.

Bethel Lutherans Set Confirmation Classes At Church

Special classes for further instruction of youngsters in the Bible, preparatory to membership in the Lutheran church, will begin next week at Bethel Lutheran church, Alemany boulevard and Huron avenue.

The senior class, composed of those who have had one year of previous instruction, will meet Monday and Thursday afternoons next week. The junior class will meet on Wednesday afternoon and Saturday morning.

Parents who desire to have their children enrolled are requested to contact the pastor, the Rev. Herbert P. Schroeder.

Sunday school at the church is conducted each Sunday at 9:30 a.m., and morning worship services are held at 10:45 o'clock.

On Friday, September 19, at 8 p.m., two motion pictures entitled, "This Is The Life," will be shown at the church.

The films were prepared and produced by the Lutheran church, Missouri-Synod, using the facilities of the best production units in Hollywood. The two action-packed episodes, which will be shown at the church are a part of a series of twenty-six, which are soon to be telecast throughout the country.

There is no admission charge, but a free-will offering will be taken to help defray the expenses of the films. The public is invited to attend.

Rev. Eggert To Talk On "Suffering And Perfection"

Business as usual will be the emphasis at the Winston Manor Community Baptist church, which meets in the chapels of Cypress Lawn Memorial park, this Sunday.

The schedule of activities for the day begin with Sunday school for all ages at 9:45 a.m., followed by the morning worship service at 11 a.m. The Rev. Richard E. Eggert, pastor of the church, will speak at that time on, "Of Suffering and Perfection."

A fellowship hour is slated for 7:30 o'clock in the evening, with the pastor once again speaking, this time on, "If God Permit."

Next Wednesday, September 17, at 7:30 p.m., a prayer and praise service will be held.

Folk Dance Fete Set September 21

The public is invited to the September Folk Dance Festival to be held Sunday afternoon and evening, September 21, at Kezar Pavilion, Stanyan and Waller streets. There is no admission charge.

Dancing will be from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., and from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. The program calls for sixty-four dances—thirty-two in the afternoon and thirty-two in the evening—and includes American Folk and Square Dances and International Folk Dances. Eight guests square dance callers will lead the dancers.

This event is sponsored by the San Francisco Folk Dance Council and the San Francisco Recreation and Park Department.

Hosts for the day will be Chang International Folk Dancers. This organization is one of the oldest dance groups of its kind in San Francisco—it was organized by Soong Chang over fourteen years ago.

Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Sorensen, UN, 1-5402.

RELAX AND ENJOY DRIVING

Remember, when you are at the wheel of your car, that nervous driving is UNSAFE driving. The nervous driver is the one who is always trying to pass the other fellow in city traffic; he's in a hurry, yet he fails to realize he won't get there much sooner no matter how much he hurries. He's the one who is most likely to have an accident. Take your turn in traffic, says the California State Automobile Association. Take it easy at the wheel.

New Fall Slate In Effect At Lutheran Church Of Savior

A full fall schedule is now under way at the Lutheran Church of Our Savior, Garfield and Junipero Serra boulevard, reports the Rev. Robert G. Konzelman, pastor of the church.

Sunday school at 9:45 a.m., and two morning worship services, one at 8:30 a.m. and one at 11 a.m. will be held each Sunday.

On Monday of next week, a Camp Fire Girl meeting will be held at the church with Mrs. Vernon Young and Mrs. J. Bowling in charge. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m.

Wednesday, September 17, the Angelus, a women's prayer group, will gather in the parsonage for their prayer meeting.

Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, the senior choir of the church will meet for rehearsal at the same time that Boy Scout Troop No. 82 holds their weekly conclave.

The junior choir will meet Friday afternoon, 4 p.m., in the church chapel. Saturday, the Rev. Konzelman will conduct catechism classes for seniors and juniors at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. respectively.

Children's Book Exhibit Announced

The San Francisco Museum of Art has arranged an exhibition, "Standards of Illustration in Children's Books," which will open at the Museum on Tuesday, September 16.

The basis of the exhibition was a round-table discussion originated by the Richmond Public Library and held at the Hayward Public Library during a recent conference meeting of the National Association of Children's Librarians. The panel was composed of Karl Kasten, Walter Kuhlman, Ernest Mundt, Alexander Nepote, and Martin Snipper.

The purpose of the exhibition is to show examples of illustrations from the two children's books which were considered the most unified among the 25 books considered. Diagrams are used in the exhibition to point out other aspects of illustration in this particular field.

The exhibition will continue through October 12.

Court St. Mary To Honor Member

The next meeting of Court St. Mary No. 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, will be held on Thursday evening, September 18, at 7:30 o'clock in Daly City Masonic Hall.

Following the meeting there will be a reception in the Blue Room of the hall for Mrs. Milton C. Weckerle, who was recently elected to the office of State Vice Regent.

Friends from neighboring courts and ladies from the Peninsula and Bay Area are expected to be present to offer their congratulations to Mrs. Weckerle.

Mrs. Fred Wettstein is in charge of the evening.

End Of Vacations Brings Full Sched'le To Grace Church

Now that vacation days are over, Grace Presbyterian church, corner of Crocker and Winchester, is once again on full schedule. The Rev. William Harberts, pastor of the church, extends a special welcome to youngsters interested in joining the church's Sunday school.

A promotion and Rally Day at the school will be held the last Sunday in the month, reports the Rev. Harberts. Classes at the Sunday school are available for every age group, and young parents who bring their children are welcomed to the adult Bible class, conducted by Mrs. Einar Hanson.

Services Sunday at the church include Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. The morning worship begins at 11 a.m. The pastor will offer his sermon topic, "Examining Our Faith."

Nursery is held for the convenience of those attending the service. Women's circles at the church have re-commenced their fall activities, with an eye towards their annual bazaar, to be held in November. Rehearsals of the church began last Wednesday evening under the direction of Miss Marian Walker.

Hope Lutherans Set Special Rally Day Services For Sunday

A special Rally Day service for children and their parents will be held this Sunday at 11 a.m. at Hope Lutheran church, which meets in the Broadmoor Community center, White street near 87th. The special service will be followed by a Sunday school picnic at San Bruno park at 1 p.m. Children and their parents are especially invited to attend.

Marie Rockey Wed Saturday In Reno

The marriage of Marie Esther Rockey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rockey, 8 Gambetta, to Salvatore Russitano of San Francisco was announced yesterday.

The young couple were wed last Saturday at Reno, with their families in attendance.

A graduate of Jefferson Union high school, Marie is 17 years old. The couple will make their home in San Francisco.

A reception will be held this Sunday at the Rockey residence.

Chest Will Benefit From Home Show Preview Night

Community Chest volunteer workers throughout San Mateo county will attend the gala preview Friday night of the Second Annual Peninsula Home Show, which will continue through September 21 at the Fiesta Building in San Mateo.

Serving as a preliminary kickoff rally event for the 1953 Red Feather Campaign which officially begins October 1, all proceeds from the preview night entertainment and show will be turned over to the San Mateo county Community Chest.

Pep Talk
Edward E. Keller, campaign chairman, will deliver a brief pep talk to Chest workers with first general campaign information prior to the county-wide Community Chest rally later this month.

A crowd of over 3,000 is expected to attend the Home Show preview. Highlighting the entertainment will be a style show by Joseph Magnin featuring commentary by Adalene Ross with her group of Peninsula Society models showing the latest in Fall fashions. During the style event which will include an unusual contest feature, a fortunate viewer will be the recipient of an original Howard Greer ensemble.

All attractions of the Peninsula Home Show, sponsored by the Peninsula General Contractors and Builders Association and the San Mateo Chamber of Commerce, will be on display for Friday night's preview-goers. Community Chest benefit tickets for preview night will be available at the door of the Fiesta Building.

PAUL OF THEIR NEW MARKET are these gentlemen of the Double A Food Center, 5901 Mission street. Having held their grand opening this week, they are prepared to offer local shoppers some of the finest buys in the city. Owners and general workers of the concern include, left to right: Al Siegel, and butchers Ormon Yee and Larry Hoo.

Assistance Guild Shop To Open Soon

The Women's Exchange of the Assistance Guild of San Mateo county will open in the near future, it was announced today.

On September 15, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., all who are interested in selling their hand-crafted items are invited to bring and show their work and samples. The shop is located at 261 Primrose road, Burlingame.

The services of the shop are open to everyone—regardless of age—who wishes to sell his handiwork on a consignment basis.

Proceeds from the shop are to go to the Volunteer Bureau which the Assistance Guild maintains and also toward aiding the groups' other welfare organizations.

Mrs. Meade Mohun, chairman for the Women's Exchange, reports that "The response to this, our first business venture, has been most heartening, as people from all over the state have shown an interest in the shop and have been sending in their work to be sold for them. We knew that there was a need for this type of establishment but had no idea that as soon as it was announced, we would start receiving so many beautiful examples of the various crafts. The craft enthusiasts have indeed responded overwhelmingly. Our shop is quite large, and we have space for a good size stock."

Members of Mrs. Mohun's committee are: Mrs. George V. Kulchar, Mrs. John Riordan, Jr., Mrs. Calvin Nelson, Mrs. Sidney Liebes, Mrs. Jack How, and Mrs. Lennart Erickson.

For those desiring further information, Mrs. Meade Mohun may be reached at: 2835 Ralston avenue, Hillsborough, Burlingame—Diamond 4-2197.

DRY ROAD SKIDS

There is danger of your car skidding even on a dry roadway, according to the California State Automobile Association. Every automobile has a critical speed at which it will go into a skid under varying conditions. The ball-bearing action of a bit of loose gravel between tires and pavement will cause a motor vehicle to skid on a dry surface as quickly as on wet or icy pavement.

Son Of Localites Graduates From Army School

Pvt. Milton D. Holstine, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Holstine, reside in Daly City, recently graduated from the tractor-scraper operation course of the Army Engineer Specialist School at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The eight-week course included classes in the use of the D-7 Caterpillar tractor, methods of bulldozing, and the operation of huge earth-moving equipment. Preventive maintenance and lubrication was stressed throughout the course, which was conducted by the 6th Armored Division.

He formerly attended the San Francisco City College.

STOPPING DISTANCE

Even with perfect brakes, it takes over seventy feet to stop a car going thirty miles an hour, according to the California State Automobile Association. With bad brakes, it takes even more. Remember, you can't stop on a dime!

SF ART FESTIVAL SENDS OUT CALL FOR GLASSBLOWER

Wanted: One glassblower, capable of puffing out an artistic bottle or goblet from a blob of molten glass.

Martin Snipper, director of the Sixth Annual San Francisco Art Festival, has been fruitlessly searching for a glassblower throughout the Pacific Coast to display his technical skill at next month's Palace of Fine Arts show, October 7-12.

Any glassblower responding to Snipper's appeal must have his own tools. These tools have not changed in 3000 years, but they seem to have vanished with the glassblowers themselves, Snipper says.

The quest for a glassblower is part of the Art Festival's program for reviving "disappearing" arts. Arts in action at the festival will include making stained-glass windows and mosaics, fresco painting (painting murals in wet plaster) and tapestry weaving.

Blacksmith, Too
The festival director would also like to have a demonstration of ornamental iron work—if he can find a blacksmith.

This year more than 250,000 visitors are expected to attend the mammoth art pageant, for which there is no admission charge.

The festival is open to professional and amateur artists in the nine Bay Area counties—San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, San Mateo, Santa Clara and Solano.

Increased Postal Service For S. F.

Resumption of complete window service at the Rincon Annex Post Office was announced here this week.

Service will cover stamp sales, parcel post and other facilities every day including Sundays, Saturdays and holidays. The extended service was authorized by Postmaster General Jesse M. McDonald during a visit to the postal seminar here.

San Francisco had been without such service since an economy wave drastically reduced service in April last year.

Big trees, Sequoia gigantea, occur only in groves, less than 30 in number, in the southern portion of the Sierra Nevada.

100 YEARS EXPERIENCE working for a better California

On August 31, 1852, P. G. and E. was born as the San Francisco Gas Company... and soon brought the first gas lights to the West.

The pleasantest memories of our first century are those of helping Californians live better year after year. In homes, in factories and on farms, new and increased uses for low-cost gas and electricity have helped people live more comfortably, produce more efficiently.

During the years to come, too, you can count on P. G. and E. services doing even more of your work... and bringing you even more comforts and conveniences at bargain rates.

Peninsula Home Show Will Begin Its Nine-Day Run Saturday In San Mateo

More than 75,000 visitors are expected to keep the turnstiles busy during the nine-day run of the Peninsula Home Show which opens this Saturday afternoon at the Fiesta building, San Mateo.

With over 100 exhibitors displaying the newest products for indoor and outdoor living, this year's home show even is expected to triple the 1951 attendance figure of 25,000.

Beauty Contest

Saturday's grand opening ceremonies will be highlighted by a spectacular bathing beauty contest to be held at 8:30 p.m. from the big fiesta indoor stage. A dozen peninsula lovelies will compete for the home show queen title.

On Sunday the home show will play host to Buzz Corry, TV interplanetary pilot of "Space Patrol." The famous rocket ship commander will arrive from Hollywood at noon Sunday and will be escorted to the home show where he will be on hand during the day and evening to greet thousands of his young admirers.

Attendance prize, which will be awarded on the final day of the show, is a ten-day Hawaiian vacation. The winner will be flown to the islands by United Air Lines where holiday accommodations have been arranged at the fabulous Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

Lanai Is Feature

In keeping with the Hawaiian theme of this year's home show, a colorful "lanai" has been constructed in the center of the vast fiesta building. The tropical setting will be complete with live monkeys and birds.

Admission to the home show has been reduced to 50 cents with children admitted free.

Joseph Schulte, manager of the show, said that there will be plenty of free parking space. Show hours are from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Stage Show Daily

Of special interest to local residents will be the daily stage show during which new home products will be displayed and demonstrated in the indoor fiesta auditorium. Youngsters will be thrilled by the toyland section in which an exciting collection of toy items to gladden the hearts of kiddies will be shown.

The breath-taking "Star of Hawaii" diamond once owned by an island queen and valued at more than $150,000, will be presented for public view each afternoon and evening.

Kay Ann Parry Celebrates Her Second Birthday

Kay Ann Parry is two years old today and much wiser in the ways of fellow children and birthday parties.

Last Tuesday, September 9, her ever loving parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parry, 31 Parkwood drive, held a birthday party for their child. Invited were all of Kay Ann's friends, who showed their appreciation by downing a considerable amount of the proper birthday goodies. They were more than a little happy to help Kay celebrate two years of life this side of paradise.

Friends at the party included Kathleen and Patricia Herman, 43 Parkwood; Linda and Steve Zeigler, 37 Parkwood; Joan Alexander, 749 Stewart; Janet and Barbara Parry, 112 Cordova street; and Bonnie, Susan and Paul Budweiser from Albany.

Tagging along were the mothers of the children, and two other distinguished guests: Mrs. H. A. Galum, Kay's grandmother; and Mrs. Edwin Mathiesen, Kay's godmother.

St. Michael's Mothers To Meet

The first meeting of the new term for St. Michael's Mothers Club will be held September 16, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The mothers of new registrants are especially invited and a most cordial welcome is extended to them to attend and become acquainted with the school's many activities and to learn of the plans for the coming year.

Many helpers are needed for the various chairmanships and it is hoped that all mothers will come so that we may have 100% attendance.

Mrs. Theodore Pechetti, new hospitality chairman, has arranged for refreshments to be served at the close of the meeting.

WONDER TOUCH FORMULA

New officers of the International Order of Job's Daughters, Bethel 198, held their first meeting of the fall term in the Blue room of Crocker Masonic Temple last Friday evening, September 5.

Gail Dahlgren, honored queen, appointed at the meeting chairman and committees to direct the organization through the year.

Also at the meeting plans were laid for the group's picnic, to be held at Elderberry Park, Niles Canyon, this Sunday, September 14. Sponsored by the Northern California Guardian Council Association, the outing will feature games, prizes and swimming, with families and friends of Job's Daughters invited to attend.

Further information on the picnic may be obtained by contacting Juniper 5-9623.

Members and friends of members will also gather at Masonic Temple at 6:30 p.m. Friday, September 19, for a pot-luck dinner. After the pot-luck, the Daughters of the Bethel will retire to the Blue room for an inspection Night.

At that time, Mrs. Stella Jensen will be honored.

Woman Columnist To Speak Here

Anita Day Hubbard, San Francisco newspaper columnist, will be guest speaker at the next regular meeting of Sheridan PTA.

The meeting will be held in Room 17 at the school on Tuesday, September 16, at 1 p.m. Her subject will be "Being a Good Neighbor."

A short business meeting will precede the program with the unit president, Mrs. J. F. Harrop, presiding.

Refreshments will be served by the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Paul Rau and her co-chairman, Mrs. F. G. Ellison.

Red Cross Opens Its Mother-Baby School

Registrations are being taken now for the next free Red Cross Home Nursing class in "Mother and Baby Care" given for expectant mothers.

The course starts Tuesday morning, Sept. 16, at the Chapter House, 1449 Bellevue avenue, Burlingame, and will meet twice a week for three weeks from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Mrs. C. A. Andrews, RN instructor, urges early sign-ups by calling the Red Cross, DI. 3-4561.

factual, hard fighting campaign Nixon has carried on in the East, all Northern California committees have been alerted to see that Nixon's message to his home state is heard by as many voters as possible.

JAMES SNELL PTA CONDUCTS FIRST MEETING OF THE SCHOOL YEAR

By Mrs. George F. Brandt

Gathering for the first meeting of the Fall term, the Executive Board of the James L. Snell Parent-Teacher Association, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Larry Green, met Monday night, September 8, at the Community Center on White street.

Among the items under discussion was the time and place of the September association meeting, which would normally fall on the first day of school.

Teaching Pressures

Due to the feeling that heavy pressure upon the teachers opening day would prevent many of them from attending a Parent-Teacher meeting that night, it was decided to postpone the general meeting until Wednesday, October 8, at 8 p.m., at which time teachers would be more free to be on hand to meet the parents of their charges.

It was also felt that by that time, most of the problems arising from double sessions, construction work and scattered classrooms, would be adjusted. It is hoped by all that split sessions will not be with us very much longer, as the Garden Village School additions should be ready by early Spring, barring any further interruptions.

Rainwear Pool

Plans were also made to hold a rainwear pool at the October meeting, with parents bringing outgrown galoshes, raincoats, and hats to be placed into a stockpile in each teacher's room, to accommodate unexpected showers, and children who have either lost or forgotten theirs. It is anticipated that many parents will want to take advantage of this novel idea.

Other committees drew up tentative plans for the coming term, which will be presented to the unit for approval at the next meeting.

As the first president, George Washington's name appears on early land patent papers of the Bureau of Land Management.

LESS THAN TWO MONTHS HAVE passed between the taking of these two pictures, yet the addition to the Westlake Town and Country shopping sector has virtually reached completion in that short time. The almost overnight construction by Henry Doelger, Inc., of this modern, multi-story building is one of the reasons Doelger was recently cited in national publications as a "Man of Distinction." His picture was shown while on his yacht, "Westlake," named after the giant housing development that has increased Daly City's population by more than one-third since its initiation a little over three years ago. Designed to offer more stores and more service to residents of the Greater Daly City area, interior completion of the newly-finished building is expected in a few weeks.

Today's Fashions by Betty Rose

CASUAL GLAMOUR AND SLIMMED-DOWN SILHOUETTE LEND FEMININE ALLURE TO FALL-WINTER FASHIONS

The paradox of glamour and casualness is resolved in the 1952 fall stylings of Betty Rose coats and suits. The slim silhouette, fabrics with exciting surface interest and a brand new theme in colors all are the hallmarks of milady's 1952 fall wardrobe. Glamour in fall fashions is achieved through the slim silhouette; Narrower shoulders with ample lines sustained through the rest of the garment; a new cut in sleeves which widen at the bottom and have a turn-back or simulated turn-back cuff. The casual effect is achieved through the fabrics themselves. These fabrics are characterized by surface interest such as that noted in tweeds, zibelines and boucles. Thus, the harmony of glamour and casualness is achieved through a wedding of feminine styling with virile fabrics. This harmony is accentuated, too, in the new fall color story. In coats and suits, the mixture of black over color or black with white is dominant. This "blackening" goes on with red, brown, blue and green to create shades with subtle color appeal which develops the casual-glamour theme. In nubby, hairy and "bloom" surface fabrics these blackened colors have a rich and handsome new effect.

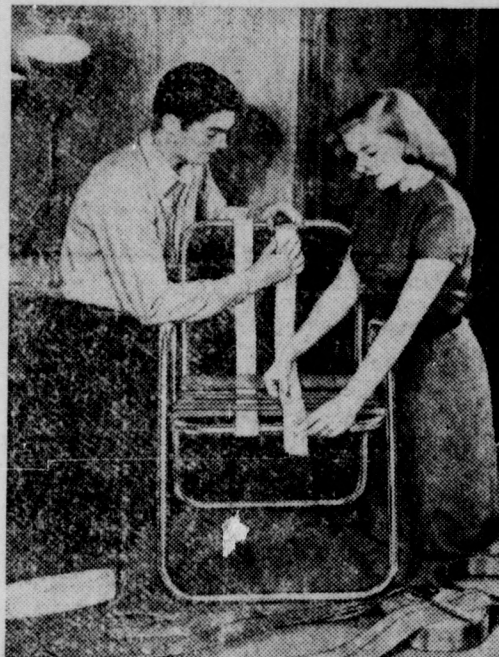

The coats and suits shown here, styled by Betty Rose, emphasize the general theme of the 1952 fall fashions. The versatile short coat on the left, increasing in popularity this season, certainly fits the casual-glamour theme. Gray, oatmeal, burgundy, gold and blue colors are available in this garment in an exciting combination of solid, contrasting with dramatic zibeline plain. Feminine allure characterizes the worsted twist boucle suit, center, as a "soft touch." Leather, green, mulberry, blue and black provide an exciting color selection. At the right, texture makes the material difference in the dressy coat with a casual twist. In wool boucle, accented by contrast trim of poodle cloth, it is a favorite in blue, gray, red, with gray trim, and black with black trim.

How to Make New Chairs From Old Ones

Here's a sensational new idea for the budget-minded homemaker who wants to bring those old chairs up to date and give her home a colorful modern look.

There is a new webbing called "Tufweb" which is used to replace that old faded upholstery and the worn-out woven bottoms and backs on your chairs. It's for use both inside and outside the house, is "as strong as the Rock of Gibraltar" and comes in every imaginable color and color combination desired to match up with drapes, rugs and other upholstered pieces in your home. There are 29 clear colors and combinations in all—opaque blue, maize, Kelly green, ivory, tuft brown, white, orange, elm green, red, aluminum, emerald green and combinations of these colors.

Directions on how to remove the old upholstery, how to sand down the rough spots of the bare frame, fill in the tack holes, paint the wooden or metal frame and do the weaving, come along with "Tufweb" and are so complete that even the least experienced can do a professional job. Your rejuvenated chair not only gives you a sense of accomplishment but has advantages unknown to homemakers in grandma's day. It is easily cleaned with soap and water or any cleaning fluid, resists sun, heat, fire and flame, does not stretch or sag, is not affected by moisture, chemicals, spilled drinks or even the jam smears from Junior's hands and the "built-in" colors stay color-bright through repeated cleansing. Result is a good looking piece of furniture far less expensive than a new one, plus the fact that it is easier to do than shop for a new chair.

SHOPPING BLOCK

News of Your Local Businesses and Business Men

By JANE KEITH

HILLTOP MARKET's new closing hour of 10 p.m. (and that's for each and every night of the week) has certainly been a boon to after-work shoppers and to women with cash but no "carry" until Mr. Husband comes home from work.

Large bottles of Tea Garden grape juice are still priced at only 33c on HILLTOP'S shelves. The reason is not price cutting, but quantity buying in the past, says Mickey Bernardi. "As long as our supply lasts, the price will be 33c!"

Remember, Hilltop Market is always open at 8:30 a.m. (Sometimes earlier, but never any later—and it never closes until 10 p.m.) The bargains found at Hilltop are real bargains and the service is prompt and smiling!

Commendation of the week goes to Toni's White Rain Shampoo (found in all drug stores) after the following unheeded comment (overheard): "Have you tinted your hair?"—"No, just washed it with White Rain shampoo!"

Lee's Pharmacy advises us that White Rain comes in two sizes, priced at 59c and 98c, and says the stuff is really good!

DALY CITY POULTRY store owner, Fred Ligouri, tells us that the old-fashioned method of wringing a chicken's neck and plucking it by hand is as dead as the dodo bird. Seems the modern way is to electrocute and pluck by machine.

Mr. Lopez of the MISSION PAINT CO., 6233 Mission St., Plaza 5-2553, handles a paint remover guaranteed to remove any kind of paint—and that includes lacquer and rubber base paints, too! Called WONDER PASTE, and priced at 65c a pint, $1.08 a quart and $3.50 a gallon, this is just what you've been needing to remove paint from ceiling, moldings or any place where "drips" are out!

A gal needs three arms to grab the bargains at LESLIE'S Broadmoor store these days what with a clearance sale going full swing and a new line of lovelies on every rack! Warmest items (and remember, the weather ahead is going to require them) are imported lamb's wool slip-on and cardigan sweaters at $4.95 and $5.95 respectively—and long sleeve, turtle-neck, 100% wool sweaters for only $4.95! Mr. Rubino, store owner, says his favorites are the new, jeweled boudoir blouses (pearls and rhinestones) made of nylon, lace—tucks—and very high style. Price for these is $3.95-$10.95, but after seeing what they can do for your going-out wardrobe—you'll put their price "above rubies and pearls." Skirts and belts to match are also available! Remember, Leslie's—in Broadmoor near King's Market.

Cute for Christmas at KIDDIEVILLE, in Broadmoor, are sets of three metal golf clubs with rubber handle protectors, golf bag and ball—for only $3.29! Use Kiddieville's Lay Away plan now. Mr. and Mrs. Godes, store owners, will be happy to hold any purchase for you so take advantage of their present wide (and very fine) selection of toys and be sure of successful giving when chimney climbing time comes!

"Wolf calls" around the new MOSHER'S SHOE STORE in Westlake had better be directed at those gorgeous Rand shoes for men—because, the lady is married! Her name is Mrs. Wm. Lynch (Blanche to her friends)—she is a resident of Westlake, from Michigan, and very happy, thank you! And, speaking of those "Rand" Freematic shoes—they are the answer to a "hot" foot! Price range is $15.95, $16.95, $17.95, and Mr. Mosher swears that their construction beats shoes specializing in rubber insoles! "The Freematic process—which gives springiness without heat," says Mr. Mosher, "gives you three or four layers of chemically treated material with leather rolled around it for a seamless, perfect comfort!" Try MOSHER'S SHOE STORE in Westlake for the man in your family!

Nice to see the EL BROADMOOR BEAUTY SALON burgeoning into what might be a really top-notch pin curl parlor. Yep! The place is now under new management. The tall, willowy lady supervising the new paint job is manager, and her name is Miss Sexton. From the looks and sounds of owner, manager and painters the business has the makings of a GOOD business!

Local Man Honored At Insurance Meet

Thomas Nash, 123 Lake Vista avenue, Daly City, is one of 350 life insurance men and women to be honored at the American College of Life Underwriters at its annual conference exercises held yesterday at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Nash is a representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

To be eligible for award of the Chartered Life Underwriter designation or the Chartered Life Underwriter Associate designation, each person is required to pass a series of five professional examinations given by the American College of Life Underwriters, usually over a period of four years' study.

In successfully completing these examinations and meeting certain additional eligibility and experience requirements, the candidate for the C.L.U. designation demonstrates that he meets high stan-

Three Cars Damaged In Friday Accident

No one was injured in a three-car smash-up last Friday afternoon on Junipero Serra boulevard, near the Alemany Extension intersection, report Daly City police.

Involved were Eva M. Courtney, 206 School street, Daly City; Alexander J. Ratks, 157 Miriam street; and Kenneth M. Weaver, 255 Wilton street, Palo Alto.

The accident took place approximately 90 feet south of the Alemany-Junipero Serra intersection. According to police, the Weaver car struck the auto driven by Mrs. Courtney—who was stopped at the signal—causing her to ram into Ratks' auto.

Records of knowledge in life insurance and other subjects closely related to the functions of the life underwriter.

WANNA LEASE ROOM TO THE POST OFFICE?

Postmaster John F. Fixa today announced that the Post Office is soliciting proposals to lease quarters for Station "K" of the San Francisco Post Office, located in the vicinity of New Montgomery and Mission Streets.

Approximately 2500 square feet of floor space is sought on a 5 or 10 year lease.

Proposals to lease quarters and information concerning requirements may be obtained from Mr. H. G. Mueller, Post Office Inspector, Room 317, Rincon Annex Post Office, San Francisco 19, Calif.

Lease proposals will be accepted up until October 4, 1952.

Cops Nab Three In Weapons-Loaded Automobile Here

Three Daly City policemen operating out of two squad cars ran down and arrested three Sacramento county youths Saturday after a hectic chase through the city.

Sgt. Dave Hansen and Officers John Coleman and James Sunderland first observed the trio driving South on Mission street. When the police cars began following them, they sped away, but were apprehended at Lama and Huron avenue in San Francisco.

Arrested were Carl Meier, 21, of Roseville; Natale Dominick, 19, of Fair Oaks; and James E. Lycke, 20, of Sacramento. Police charged car theft, alleging the auto was stolen last Friday in Sacramento.

All are reported as having previous records for car theft, and police say that Meier served time in San Quentin State penitentiary for assault with a deadly weapon.

When arrested, the car contained a .22 caliber rifle, and an eight-inch knife. Meier was reported as having a six-inch razor in his possession.

Urge Passage Of Juvenile Hall Bond Issue November 4

Officials Say Crowded Conditions Grow Worse

Representatives of some 400 civic, fraternal and church groups in San Mateo County will enroll in the campaign to secure passage of the $400,000 Juvenile Hall bond issue at the November 4 election, it was announced today by Mr. T. Louis Chess, who has accepted the appointment as chairman of the bond drive committee.

Plans for the mass meeting of these leaders from all communities in the county were completed yesterday by Judge Aylett R. Cotton, who presides over Juvenile Court, Mr. T. Louis Chess, Attorney J. Ed McClellan, chairman of the San Mateo county Probation Committee, and John S. Cowgill, chief probation officer of San Mateo county.

The slogan of the campaign will be—"Remember this—the wayward child of today can be made the good citizen of tomorrow."

Always Overcrowded The purpose of this bond issue is to alleviate the greatly overcrowded conditions at the county Juvenile Hall, where children coming under the guidance of the Probation department must be housed until disposition can be made of their cases.

When the Juvenile Hall was constructed four years ago it was believed by the various county agencies that it would suffice for a ten year period, but, according to Mr. Chess, the great influx of new children to the county, with the attendant increase in juvenile delinquency, has taxed the structure beyond what is considered safe capacity.

Judge Perturbed Judge Cotton expressed himself as "strongly perturbed" over the crowded conditions existing at Juvenile Hall. He said: "It is essential that the building be enlarged, and to finance the work, the bond issue must carry. Proper segregation of these children, impossible now due to over-crowding, is essential if full results of rehabilitation are to be attained. I do not foresee how our citizens, if properly informed, can do other than vote 'YES' at the polls on November 4."

"Passage of the $400,000 bond issue will mean an increase of only eight-tenths of a cent in taxes. Truly this small amount makes a mighty investment in setting children back on the path to good citizenship."

The committee asks all citizens interested in working for the passage of this bond issue to attend the mass meeting on Wednesday, September 17, at 8 p.m. at the Y.M.C.A. building, 204 North El Camino Real, San Mateo.

The official end of the convention begins Monday morning at the High School of Commerce where Governor Warren will deliver the address of welcome. George M. Morris, of Washington, D. C., former president of the American Bar Association, will respond. Howard L. Barkdull, president of the ABA, will preside.

Vice-Chairman Of Ike-Nixon County Campaign Named

A personal friend of Senator Richard Nixon, Donald C. Jamison of San Mateo has been appointed county vice-chairman for the Eisenhower-Nixon committee it was announced today by the San Mateo county chairman, L. Herbert Harris.

Jamison and Vice-Presidential Candidate Nixon first met in 1937 in Southern California when at that time Nixon acted as campaign manager for Jamison who was elected district governor for the 20-30 clubs of Southern California.

Senatorial Campaign Jamison first returned this favor to Nixon in 1950 when he acted as San Mateo county co-chairman with Aylett R. Cotton in Nixon's successful campaign for United States Senator.

In accepting the appointment to the Eisenhower-Nixon committee, Jamison said, "It is a distinct pleasure to again be associated in a campaign with Dick Nixon and his integrity and ability, in my mind, are unquestioned. I intend to do everything I can to help elect Ike and Dick."

Labor-Management Expert Harris said that Jamison is well acquainted with management and labor problems and would be of great assistance in the Eisenhower-Nixon campaign in San Mateo county.

Jamison, his wife Louise and three children, Richard, Donald and Diane, live at 827 N. Delaware in San Mateo. Jamison is manager of the San Francisco branch of the California Wine Association.

New Street Lights Already Installed On Many Blocks

The new 2500 lumen street lamps, currently being installed throughout Daly City, are already up in many districts, City Administrator Dan Andersen announced yesterday.

All of the Crocker tract has received the new lighting treatment and work has been completed on Wellington, Crocker and Templeton avenues.

Installed by the PG&E, the new and additional lights, said Andersen, will illuminate many streets which were "formerly" pitch black at night.

When installed, they are expected to increase the cost of street lighting in the city by approximately $2069. Current budget for lighting is $26,000.

BAR ASSOCIATION (LAWYERS) MEET IN SF MONDAY

The law will "take over" in San Francisco beginning Monday morning. On that day the seventy-fifth annual convention of the American Bar Association, the parent organization of the legal profession, opens here. The convention will continue through Friday, September 19.

This marks the third time in the history of the American Bar that San Francisco has been chosen the convention city. The last time the meeting was held here was in 1939.

More than 5000 guests are expected. These include judges and lawyers from all parts of the United States, Canada, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Alaska. Many will be accompanied by their wives.

Although the Palace Hotel has been designated official headquarters, all large hotels throughout the city and the auditorium of the High School of Commerce will be used for business meetings.

The official end of the convention begins Monday morning at the High School of Commerce where Governor Warren will deliver the address of welcome. George M. Morris, of Washington, D. C., former president of the American Bar Association, will respond. Howard L. Barkdull, president of the ABA, will preside.

San Mateo JC Sets Evening Classes For Adults

Fall semester registration at San Mateo Junior College took place Wednesday and classwork started Thursday of this week. The college adult center will register men and women for its evening program Monday, September 15.

Community Hall of the adult center will also start its fall series of illustrated lectures Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the college auditorium. Frank C. Kugelberg, San Francisco shipping official, will lecture on and show color movies of Hawaii. The public is invited without charge.

President Elon Earl Hildreth met his faculty at their teachers' institute Tuesday morning and that afternoon he and Mrs. Hildreth entertained the instructors and staff at a tea in their San Mateo home.

Coaches Herb Hudson and Del Fishback have started football practice with 50 men in suits. The first game will be September 26 when Long Beach will play the Matadors on the Burlingame lighted field.

The college adult center, opening Monday, offers 165 different courses for the men and women of the Peninsula. Many of these programs are given away from the college, in Millbrae, San Bruno, Brisbane, Daly City and Half Moon Bay.

The students of the college will open their social events with a dance and carnival this Friday night in the Baldwin gym. Howard Frederic's orchestra will play for the sports affair from eight to one o'clock. Tickets may be bought at the door.
